what's inside

How do you use Forward in Christ in your ministry? It is good for so much more than just a quick read-through. Have you considered . . .

- using the “Q&A” and corresponding Bible study (pp. 14-15) as the basis for a small group Bible study?
- reading the devotion or another article of interest with a shut-in when you visit?
- discussing the advice from “Parent conversations” (pp. 16-17) at your “Mommy and me” class or handing out the article to school parents?
- reprinting an article in your church newsletter and then encouraging members to pick up the magazine in the narthex to read more Christ-centered articles? (We just ask that you include “Reprinted by permission ©2020 Forward in Christ” with the article.)

Let us know how you use Forward in Christ in your ministry.

WELS CONNECTIONS

For more than 150 years, Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary, Mequon, Wis., has been training men to be pastors, professors, and missionaries around the world. Discover more about the school's overall ministry in April's WELS Connection video.

But what does a typical school day entail? This month in Forward in Christ, readers get to meet senior Micah Koelpin and discover what life is like at the seminary (p. 25). They can also view photos of vicars serving around the country in “This is WELS” (p. 4).

EXPLORE APRIL 2020 ARTICLES

For 40 years, Camp BASIC has been serving children and adults with developmental or intellectual disabilities. Volunteers know that the heart of this Christian camp family are the campers. Read their stories on pp. 18-20.

pp. 18-20

Easter! Need I say more? April's issue is chock full of Easter joy and the message of Christ risen from the dead. Several articles also explore the importance of the week leading up to Easter. Don't miss a single article.

During this season when the Lord's Supper was instituted, Gary Pufahl examines the question, “Why can't my sister have communion with us?” in our “Please explain . . .” column (p. 12). It's a great explanation of what the Lord's Supper means to us and an important discussion piece for WELS members.

pp. 12-13
